

Over the years, the Lord has worked in the lives of students in many ways through DBU. Below are four such examples.

Kari Jobe was a transfer student from Christ for the Nations Institute who finished her education at DBU; she is currently serving as a worship leader for churches and conferences around the nation, and after receiving two Dove Awards, she recently signed a contract with Sparrow Records.

Mamo Ishida came to DBU from Japan and became a follower of Christ, the first in his family; he now serves as a faculty member at DBU and heads up the East Asian Studies Program.

Jill Beard participated in a number of mission trips as a student, learning the meaning of the word servant; she now serves at a local homeless shelter ministering to families and children.

Chris Holloway developed his passion for missions at DBU through classes, trips, and projects; he currently serves as the director of DBU's Baptist Student Ministry and is able to spread that passion to others.

Each of these students discovered something much larger than just an education at Dallas Baptist University.

In the Gospel of John, we learn of the work of Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter. When Andrew encountered something that changed his life, he wanted to share it with those closest to him. He immediately ran to tell his brother.

Operation Andrew is a special project for all members of the DBU family—our students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends. What's Your DBU Story? How has the Lord used DBU to transform your life? If so, would you share that with others?

If DBU has impacted your life and you know of someone whom you would like to share that with, please consider filling out the form below.

Thank you so much for your help with this special program.

The first thing Andrew did was to find his brother Simon and tell him, "We have found the Messiah" (that is, the Christ). And he brought him to Jesus.

John 1:41-42a
